DESIGN TEAM & STUDIO

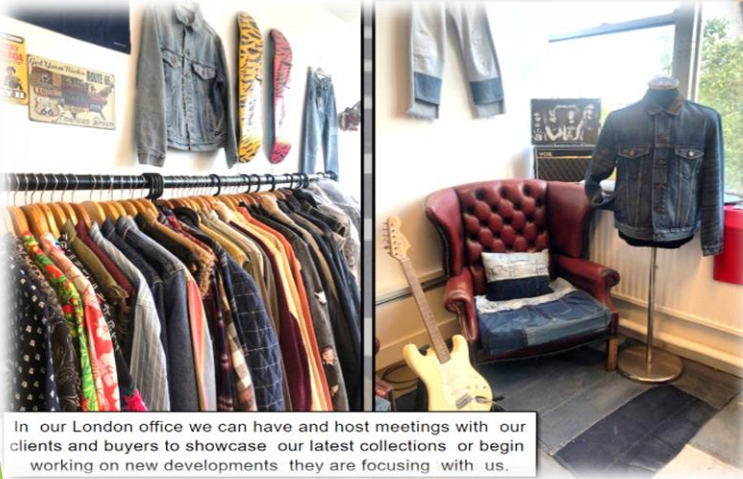

The person responsible of running the design team, is Angel Nokonoko, a Central Saint Martins fashion graduate with extensive experience in developing denim and woven products

He is based in our London office, which gives us a strong footprint into seeing the new trends and new market directions. At the same times, we are able to see and check regularly fabric showrooms, trend seminars and visiting our clients store physically in order to review their offering and seeing newness from competitors

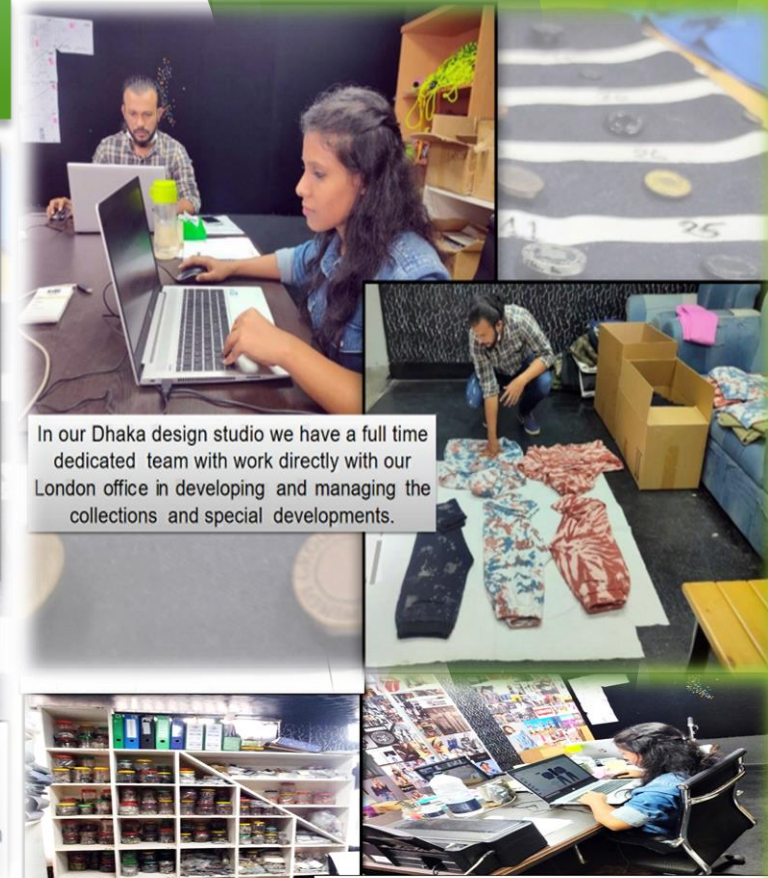

We have two design offices, one in the United Kingdom, London and another one in Dhaka where we work simultaneously creating collections for our clients.

In our London office we can have and host meetings with our clients and buyers to showcase our latest collections or begin working on new developments they are focusing with us.

We are able to support with ready made collections or tailored collections to fit the buyers directions and brand aesthetics. In addition, we can support we CAD design, trimmings advice, mood boards of inspirations, patches and so on, ...

In our Dhaka design studio we have a full time dedicated team with work directly with our London office in developing and managing the collections and special developments.

Our design office in Dhaka, is based in one of our factory units strategically located next to the sample room so we have direct access and can work closely with the samples section and cad teams.
